This PAS is not to be regarded as a British Standard.

The PAS process enables a specification to be developed rapidly in order to fulfil an immediate need in industry or in the wider community. A PAS can be considered for further development as a British Standard, or constitute part of the UK input to the development of a European or International Standard.

This PAS will be withdrawn upon publication of its content in or as, a British Standard or if an equivalent European standard is published.

Publishing information

The British Standards Institution retains ownership and copyright of this PAS. BSI Standards Limited as the publisher of the PAS reserves the right to withdraw or amend this PAS on receipt of authoritative advice that it is appropriate to do so. This PAS will be reviewed at intervals not exceeding two years, and any amendments arising from the review will be published as an amended PAS and publicized in Update Standards.

To facilitate the use of the PAS 91 question modules in organizational prequalification processes, BSI permits the copying of the questions by those wishing to use them. For this purpose, editable copies of the question modules are available on request, from BSI. Potential users are however referred to the 'rules for use of the question modules' provided in clause 3 of this PAS.

Use of this document

It has been assumed in the preparation of this PAS that the execution of its provisions will be entrusted to a competent person or persons for whose use it has been produced.

Presentational conventions

The provisions of this PAS are presented in roman (i.e. upright) type. Its requirements are expressed in sentences in which the principal auxiliary verb is “shall”. Its recommendations are expressed in sentences in which the principal auxiliary verb is “should”.

Commentary, explanation and general informative material, e.g. Notes, are presented in italic type, and do not constitute a normative element.

Where words have alternative spellings, the preferred spelling of the Shorter Oxford English Dictionary is used (e.g. “organization” rather than “organisation”).

Contractual and legal considerations

This publication does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users are responsible for its correct application.

As the National Standards Body for the United Kingdom, BSI has facilitated the drafting of this specification with the intention that it will be applicable across the United Kingdom. Its use in relation to procurement for works contracts (including the procurement of supplies and services subject to the Construction (Design and Management) Regulations 2015 and needed in relation to the works) in the scope of the Public Contract Regulations 2015 is confirmed in a Procurement Policy Note issued by the Crown Commercial Service in November 2017. However, when working in areas under the jurisdiction of a devolved administration, users of PAS 91 are recommended to confirm the acceptability of the PAS 91 Question Modules with that devolved administration.

Attention is drawn to the principle, applicable in British Standards generally, that they do not specifically require actions that are the subject of legal requirement. Therefore, this PAS does not include, for example, requirement to observe Health and Safety or Building Regulations, with which it is assumed users of this PAS will be in compliance.

Compliance with this PAS does not in itself confer immunity from legal obligations.

Introduction

BSI PAS 91 is a publicly available specification (PAS) that sets out the content, format and use of questions that are widely applicable to prequalification for construction tendering.

To be eligible for prequalification, it is necessary that suppliers are able to demonstrate that they possess or have access to the governance, qualifications and references, expertise, competence, health and safety/ environmental/financial and other essential capabilities to the extent necessary for them to be considered appropriate to undertake work and deliver services for potential buyers.

The use of this set of common criteria by those who undertake prequalification activity or provide prequalification services helps to streamline tendering processes by:

- reducing the need for the unproductive, repetitive completion of multiple prequalification processes;
- facilitating the identification of suitably qualified and experienced suppliers;
- increasing consistency between various prequalification databases;
- clarifying the distinction between criteria at the prequalification and contract award stages of the procurement process.

Throughout the construction supply chain, many suppliers seeking to demonstrate their suitability for delivering construction projects are required to submit to frequent prequalification processes involving many different questionnaire forms. This leads to considerable unnecessary effort and wastes time and money, not only for those suppliers but also for the buyers and assessment providers who have to read and evaluate the varied information provided in many different formats. This proliferation of questions and question formats is exacerbated by the many procurement officers that choose, for whatever reason, to undertake their own prequalification activity.

For suppliers seeking to establish themselves as prequalified to deliver construction projects, the sheer number and variety of the questionnaires that they are presented with can be a continual drain on resources.

The consistent use of a set of common questions in all construction related prequalification activity would not only significantly reduce the resources invested by suppliers in such activity, but would also enable assessment providers and procurement officers to more reliably source suppliers solely on the basis of the level of assurance they provide (i.e. the extent to which the answers to the questions given by the suppliers are checked and evaluated), and facilitate suppliers' access to work where the risk levels are appropriate.

This PAS therefore specifies a set of questions that enable the acquisition of the essential information required in all prequalification processes in a uniform and commonly usable manner.

The benefits to buyers of the introduction of PAS 91 to procurement prequalification processes can include considerable saving in time and money when compiling, using and comparing prequalification questionnaires, more supply chain certainty about basic prequalification requirements and that more suppliers (notably SMEs) can be encouraged to take part, giving wider choice to clients. In addition, the universal use of this PAS could also help to raise the overall standard of communication, understanding and supplier capability across the construction sector.

The benefits to suppliers can include not only reduced cost of prequalification and an increase in the possibility of participating in additional prequalification processes, but also freeing up often scarce resources to invest in potentially more profitable activity.

For assessment providers, the use of PAS 91 can reduce the time spent developing and refining the questions themselves and make available more time to focus on developing and selling added value services to a better informed procurement client base which understands the benefits of applying PAS 91.

It is important to recognise that the information obtained from applying PAS 91 does not remove a buyer's legal or other requirements to make further enquiries about the supplier's capabilities, beyond the questions in these modules, to satisfy specific requirements for projects, services or other activities. Provision is therefore made in PAS 91 for the inclusion of supplementary questions if necessary, subject to certain restrictions.

It is the intention that through the application of PAS 91 to prequalification services and processes, suppliers obtain more control over the timing and extent of their prequalification activity and that meeting widely accepted prequalification criteria can and will be recognized by all potential buyers. Inclusion on a prequalification database does not necessarily guarantee an invitation to tender or an engagement of services. It is recognized that those seeking to have work done might choose to select pre-qualified tenderers or might decide, or be required, to advertise for tenders or expressions of interest for particular projects. However, with the prevalence of prequalification activity, it is suggested that by applying for prequalification through a scheme that conforms to PAS 91, those seeking to tender for construction contracts can access the tendering processes in a resource efficient manner. For those seeking to have contracts fulfilled, the use of PAS 91 can enhance the effectiveness and efficiency of construction tendering processes, whether it is used directly or through an external prequalification assessment provider. The use of PAS 91 is therefore recommended wherever construction-related prequalification is undertaken.

PAS 91 Module C3 Tables 9 and 10, take account of the European Single Procurement Document (ESPD) as required to comply with the Public Contract Regulations 2015.

The significant benefits from uniform application of the PAS 91 question sets can only be fully realized when secure data exchange can take place between databases holding prequalification data, allowing those seeking prequalification to securely store and manage their prequalification data and those seeking to build a list of suitable suppliers to draw the information they require upon submission of appropriate qualification.

Such a development is beyond the remit of the PAS 91 development but the question sets it provides have been prepared with the intention of facilitating the exchange of data in due course. At the time of publication of this amendment, a full review and possible further revision of this PAS is under consideration.

1 Scope

This PAS provides a set of questions to be asked by buyers of potential suppliers to enable prequalification of the supply chain for construction-related projects. This PAS also specifies requirements for the consistent use of those questions across projects of varying sizes and types, including in respect of the Official Journal of the European Community (OJEU) procurement thresholds for public sector procurement. It is intended that the questions also be used by assessment providers in their intermediary role between buyers and suppliers.

It is widely recognized that excessive prequalification activity adds unacceptable cost, bureaucracy and confusion to the construction supply chain. Unnecessary bureaucracy associated with prequalification diverts both buyers' and suppliers' resources and attention away from proportionate and effective risk management. It is therefore necessary that buyers and assessment providers pay particular regard to reducing unnecessary documentation requirements for businesses, and in any event only require suppliers to provide information and evidence that is related and proportionate to the subject matter of the contracts likely to be awarded.

- This PAS provides construction sector stakeholders with prequalification questions that:
- are typical of the common questions that are relevant to construction-related procurement;
- increase the scope for cross-recognition between various types of prequalification activity; help to significantly reduce duplication, unnecessary paperwork and cost for both buyers and suppliers.

The question modules are presented in Clause 4 as a series of tables, each containing questions relating to a particular aspect of supplier capability. These questions are already widely asked across a range of commonly applied construction-related prequalification processes. This PAS collates them and provides for their use in a uniform manner.

This PAS does not include project-specific questions to suppliers, but does make provision for buyers or assessment providers to insert additional project-specific questions into the question modules if necessary, subject to certain restrictions, and it provides a suggested format for their inclusion.

This PAS specifies what is to be asked in prequalification processes for construction-related procurement but not how the enquiry process is to be undertaken. The PAS aims to underpin widely accepted good practice in the construction sector. It is not intended to add to or 'gold plate' prequalification activity or to raise requirements or standards beyond those which are already widely accepted as good practice in the sector.

2 Terms and definitions

For the purposes of this PAS, the following definitions shall apply to the terms used in this specification.

2.1 area of capability

2.5 construction (work)

NOTE In the interest of uniformity, this definition and the content of the explanatory notes that follow have been extracted from the Construction (Design and Management) Regulations 2015, which interpret construction work as follows:

“construction work” means the carrying out of any building, civil engineering or engineering construction work and includes

- a) the construction, alteration, conversion, fitting out, commissioning, renovation, repair, upkeep, redecoration or other maintenance (including cleaning which involves the use of water or an abrasive at high pressure, or the use of corrosive or toxic substances), de-commissioning, demolition or dismantling of a structure;

clearance or preparation of the site or structure for use or occupation at its conclusion;

- c) the assembly on site of prefabricated elements to form a structure or the disassembly on site of the prefabricated elements which, immediately before such disassembly, formed a structure;
- d) the removal of a structure, or of any product or waste resulting from demolition or dismantling of a structure, or from disassembly of prefabricated elements which immediately before such disassembly formed such a structure;
- e) the installation, commissioning, maintenance, repair or removal of mechanical, electrical, gas, compressed air, hydraulic, telecommunications, computer or similar services which are normally fixed within or to a structure, but does not include the exploration for, or extraction of, mineral resources, or preparatory activities carried out at a place where such exploration or extraction is carried out.”

2.6 construction organization

2.8 contractor

entity (including sub-contractor) undertaking construction works and services at one or more construction sites in accordance with a formal arrangement made in advance

NOTE A contractor is a supplier but a supplier is not necessarily a contractor.

2.9 procurement [construction related] commissioning of supplies, works and services in relation to a construction related project

2.10 supplier

entity intending to provide supplies, works or services for all or part of a construction related project sequence of all entities engaged directly or indirectly, by a client to contribute supplies, works and services to a construction-related project

2.11 supply chain

- makes the criteria to be used in assessment of responses available to question respondents prior to their completion of the questionnaire (3.3);
- asks all the core questions set out in Tables 1 to 4 of Clause 4.1 (as required in 3.1.1.1);
- where the module topic is relevant use optional question modules selected from Tables 5 to 8 of Clause 4.2, (as required in 3.1.1.2);
- asks additional questions, but only if they are related and proportionate to the subject matter of the contracts likely to be awarded, in accordance with 3.2;
- is designed to obtain only information that is related and proportionate to the subject matter of the contracts likely to be awarded (as required in 3.1.1.3);
- provides for public sector or defence and security buyers to use questions alternative to those in C3 in order to meet regulatory requirements (Tables 9 & 10 of 4.3 and Tables 11 & 12 of 4.4 (as required in 3.1.2)).

3 Rules for use of the question modules

3.1 Application of question modules

3.1.1 General application

Prequalification processes claimed to be compliant with this PAS, shall:

3.1.1.1 ask all the (core) questions set out in Tables 1 to 4 of Clause 4.1, without modification of the individual questions, only permitting exemption as shown in the module Table;

3.1.1.2 at their discretion and where the module topic is relevant, use (optional) question modules selected from Tables 5 to 8 of Clause 4.2, asking all the questions included in the selected module(s) without modification and only permitting exemption as shown in the module Table;

3.1.1.3 require from suppliers only documentary evidence that is related and proportionate to the subject matter of the contracts likely to be awarded (for assessing supplier compliance with any particular prequalification question) at the stage of the process at which it becomes necessary for assessment purposes and should have particular regard to reducing unnecessary documentation requirements for businesses.

NOTE The forms of evidence described in relation to the various questions in Question Modules C1 to C4 and O1 to O4 of this PAS, are provided for guidance only. It is for buyers and/or assessment providers to state the precise requirements for evidence provision, at the time the questions are issued.

3.1.2 Application for public sector or defence and security public contract procurement

Prequalification processes for projects in the public sector or in defence and security public contract procurement, claimed to be compliant with this PAS shall follow the requirements of 3.1.1 with the exception that the questions provided in Table 3 of Clause 4.1 can be replaced by those in Tables 9 and 10 of Clause 4.3 or Tables 11 and 12 of Clause 4.4, as necessary to meet legislative requirements. Also, for public sector procurements subject to the Public Contracts Regulations 2015 (PCR 2015) which exceed the relevant EU declared threshold, the supplementary questions to Table 1 and a declaration (see Annex C) are included to comply with the PCR 2015.

NOTE 1 As indicated in 4.3, buyers may opt to use an electronic-ESPD option in lieu of tables 9 and 10; also suppliers may submit an ESPD in lieu of tables 9 and 10.

NOTE 2 Further to the note to clause 3.1.1.3, buyers for procurements in the scope of 3.1.2 need to include appropriate arrangements for evidence provision for each question (including any supplementary questions) sufficient to enable compliance with relevant obligations for such procurements (e.g. for self-certification and access to information available electronically for above threshold contracts under the Public Contracts Regulations 2015) this includes adjustments to table headers and to details regarding information to be provided for individual questions.

NOTE 3 Buyers should refer to any relevant advice by appropriate authorities regarding the use of this PAS for procurements in the scope of 3.1.2, including relevant Procurement Policy Notes issued by Crown Commercial Service. When working in areas under the jurisdiction of a devolved administration, users of this PAS are strongly recommended to confirm the acceptability of the PAS question modules with that devolved administration.

3.2 Supplementary questions

PAS 91 recognizes that beyond the scope of the questions included in PAS 91, a buyer may need to ask a supplier supplementary or additional questions, notably for professional or technical reasons, that relate to the type of project or other specific services likely to be undertaken. PAS 91 therefore permits the inclusion of questions in existing modules to accommodate this, subject to the requirements below.

Prequalification processes claimed to be compliant with this PAS shall only incorporate such supplementary or additional questions within the question modules provided in 4.1 and 4.2, if those questions are:

- designed to obtain information that is related and proportionate to the subject matter of the contracts likely to be awarded, and that is clearly additional to that already addressed by the PAS 91 questions provided in the core and optional modules; and
- numbered in a sequence that does not break the number sequence of the PAS 91 question module in which they are inserted.

NOTE When introducing supplementary questions, buyers and assessment providers should maintain their regard for reducing unnecessary documentation requirements for businesses.

3.3 Assessment criteria

The criteria used to assess supplier responses shall be derived solely from the information required from suppliers in their response to questions from the question modules in 4.1 and 4.2 (or in 4.3 or 4.4 where substituted) and to any supplementary questions that may be asked (4.5). This information shall include responses obtained from referees nominated by suppliers. Buyers or assessment providers applying this PAS to their prequalification processes shall inform suppliers of any weighting or ranking given to the assessment criteria to be applied, prior to their responding to the questions.

NOTE Ranking of questions should be avoided unless required by the particular circumstances of a contract. Any ranking of question modules considered necessary should be transparent, fair and equitable and not be used as a means to reserve contracts for those suppliers that may be preferred for reasons other than those provided for in this PAS.

4 Core and optional questions

4.1 Application of core question modules

The questions provided in tables 1 to 4 are core questions and shall be included as specified in Clause 3, in every prequalification questionnaire for which compliance with this PAS is claimed, other than in the circumstances provided for in the respective tables.

NOTE 2 to Table 2 At the discretion of the buyer, a minimum level of turnover may be asked for. However, buyers should avoid insisting on requirements which may not be proportionate or relevant to the procurement, or which may discriminate against or be burdensome for SMEs or new providers. It is acknowledged that the nature and extent of the accounts provided will be commensurate with the business requirements and legal obligations of the supplier.

Table 3 – Core Question Module C3: Business and professional standing

For all procurement situations other than that for the public sector, including defence and security, procurement buyers shall require that suppliers in their responses to the questions in module C3, make known all pertinent information in respect of business related, criminal or civil court judgements against them and identify any ongoing or pending cases.

For public sector procurement the process for obtaining this information is prescribed in the Public Contract Regulations 2015 (PCR 2015), and Clause 4.3 of this PAS provides alternative questions aligned to the requirements of the PCR 2015, including those for the ESPD. Alternatively, suppliers who have already completed an ESPD template can submit that completed ESPD in lieu of Table 3. For procurement in the scope of the Defence and Security Public Contract Regulations 2011, Clause 4.4 of this PAS provides the necessary alternative questions (see also Annex B).

NOTE 1 Assessors should not request unnecessary paperwork and may not necessarily require evidence of all the examples in column 3 of Table 4. Suppliers (including contractors, consultants and others) should only be required to produce enough evidence to show that they meet the relevant criteria, taking account of the nature of activities/projects likely to be involved, and the hazards and risks. This requires assessors to make a judgement as to whether the evidence provided meets the standard to be achieved. If that judgement is reasonable, and clearly based on the evidence requested, assessors cannot be criticised if the supplier they appoint subsequently proves not to have the necessary capability (essential knowledge, skills and experience) when carrying out the activity.

NOTE 2 For suppliers that will be CDM duty holders – The core questions in Table 4 align with legal requirements on the relevant duty holder under the Construction (Design and Management) Regulations (CDM 2015).

NOTE 3 For suppliers that will be CDM duty holders – Asking the questions in Table 4 does not remove the buyer's requirement to make further enquiries about the supplier's H&S capability, as required for specific projects, services or other activities.

Stage 1: An assessment of the supplier's organization and arrangements for H&S, to determine whether these are sufficient to enable the supplier to carry out the activity safely and without risk to health. Stage 1 assessments assess the general (basic) capability of the supplier and are within the scope of PAS 91.

Stage 2: Stage 2 assessments are outside the scope of PAS 91*. They involve an additional assessment of the supplier's experience, technical capability and track record, to establish that: it is capable of carrying out the actual construction activity/project required (i.e. project, activity or service-specific enquiries), and notably in relation to higher hazard activity; that the supplier recognizes any limitations and how these should be overcome; and appreciates the hazards associated with the activity and how the risk should be effectively controlled.

*Stage 2 assessments follow Stage 1 enquiries and they should not therefore be asked in relation to PAS 91 (although in the public sector only, stage 2 questions relating to previous experience will be asked in the prequalification questionnaire – if required by law).

NOTE 4 If a supplier has fewer than five employees it is not legally required to write down its general policy, organization or arrangements. However, it does need to be able to show that its arrangements are adequate in relation to the type of activity likely to be undertaken.

NOTE 5 Relevant and proportionate CPPs are required for 'construction work' covered by CDM 2015. CPPs need only be proportionate to the nature of the activity likely to be undertaken.

NOTE 6 RIDDOR: The Reporting of Injuries, Diseases and Dangerous Occurrences Regulations 2013.

4.2 Application of optional question modules

The questions provided in Tables 5 to 8 constitute optional modules that can be included, where relevant, but where included they shall be applied as specified in Clause 3 in every prequalification questionnaire for which compliance with this PAS is claimed.

4.5 Supplementary or additional questions

Introduction: Table 13 provides a format for asking supplementary or additional questions which, if necessary can be interpolated into the core and optional question modules presented in Tables 1 to 8. In recognizing that supplementary or additional questions may need to be asked and providing for their inclusion in existing question modules, Clause 3.2 specifically requires that any supplementary or additional questions be referenced in a manner that clearly identifies the fact that they are supplementary or additional questions and numbered in a manner that does not change the number sequence of the original PAS 91 questions, in the module in which they are inserted.

This format and the example questions used for its demonstration in Table 13, may be used in prequalification processes that relate to specific projects or frameworks, where applicants are required to meet minimum standards of technical and/or professional ability. Before choosing to use these example questions however, buyers and assessment providers should have particular regard to reducing unnecessary documentation requirements for businesses and in any event only request information that is related and proportionate to the subject matter of the contracts likely to be awarded (see Note to this Clause).

Whilst the use of this particular format and numbering system are not requirements of this PAS and users may adopt whatever method of presentation is best suited to the nature of the question(s) to be asked, the requirements of Clause 3.2 in respect of relevance and proportionality, additionality and numbering, shall still be met for any supplementary or additional questions that may be asked.

NOTE Where prequalification processes are required to be OJEU compliant, the allowable means of evaluating compliance with minimum standards of technical and professional ability are described in Public Contracts Regulations 2015 Regulations 58(15) - 58(18) and Regulation 60(9), and questions should be formulated to address such evaluation. They should also be related and proportionate to the subject matter of the contracts likely to be awarded.

NOTE In the question referencing above, the questions are numbered appropriately for inclusion in a separate set of supplementary or additional questions. If the supplementary or additional questions are to be interpolated into PAS 91 core or optional question modules, the letter in the first element will be C or O dependent upon whether the question is to be added to a core or optional module and the number of the first element will be determined by the particular module into which the question is being inserted. SUP is then added as a suffix to denote a supplementary or additional question.

Annex A PAS 91 Overview (informative)

This Annex builds on the information provided in the introduction to this PAS and includes:

- A1 Introduction
- A2 What are the buyer benefits?
- A3 What are the supplier benefits?
- A4 How should a buyer use the PAS?
- A5 Use of assessment providers
- A6 How to use the PAS when looking at projects with different levels of risk?
- A7 Application of the PAS to additional cases

A.1 Introduction

The problem – Across the construction supply chain suppliers wishing to prequalify for work are frequently required to complete a variety of different prequalification questionnaires. This leads to considerable duplication of supplier effort which costs both time and money. Often, particular questions are essentially seeking the same information but because they are presented in a different way and in a different order, suppliers can be placed under resource and other pressures due to confusion and the wasted money, time and effort required. There is also increased risk that responses will differ unnecessarily. On the other side of the process, buyers or their assessment providers may have to devote excessive time and effort to reading and evaluating this variety of responses, which adds yet more unnecessary cost to the overall process.

The solution – This PAS provides a standard wording and order for a set of questions that will enable the acquisition of the essential information required in all prequalification processes in a uniform and commonly usable, manner. The intention is that buyers should use these “core” questions, either directly or through an assessment provider that complies with this PAS to obtain the information they require. A supplier can then efficiently complete a prequalification questionnaire, referring to their pre-prepared answers.

Further standard questions, which may be relevant to some but not all construction procurements, are provided in optional modules that can be used as required.

It is important to recognize that prequalification is an initial filter of interested suppliers who can then be short-listed for the tender stage. So the questions should be kept to a minimum and only include those that will help with this stage of the buying decision.

However, if prequalification is in respect of a specific project, additional project-specific questions can also be used to filter out those companies that do not have the technical capability to successfully complete an invitation to tender.

A.2 What are the buyer benefits?

Less time spent on routine tasks, more confidence that they are following good practice, more sustainable processes, more time to focus on significant parts of the tendering process, more suppliers willing to apply for work, giving more choice.

By utilizing this PAS greater clarity is provided bringing more certainty that buyers are prequalifying suppliers correctly whilst simultaneously saving time and resources. By using a set of questions with which potential suppliers will be familiar the cost and uncertainty surrounding basic prequalification will be reduced for suppliers, so that more suppliers should feel able to take part, bringing greater choice to clients. In addition, the use of this PAS should also enable buyers to devote more time to developing any necessary project-specific questions.

Use of this PAS can be of benefit to an organization in relation to corporate responsibility, as it is part of the common agenda to reduce burdens on buyers and suppliers alike, and to increase the understanding and application of widely applicable standards in the construction industry.

Occasional buyers – This PAS gives a clear guide and structure to the prequalification process which can be of considerable help to the occasional buyer. Use of the PAS gives assurance to buyers that they are following good practice without needing to invest a lot of time researching processes and experiencing delay as a result. They can also have confidence that they will have greater opportunity for response from better prepared and informed suppliers.

A.3 What are the supplier benefits?

Less confusion, less possibility of misunderstanding what information is required, less time taken to prepare responses, less cost and paperwork, more confidence in the process bringing greater certainty that questionnaires have been completed correctly, and more time to spend on other business activity.

A supplier should be able to devote time to developing an authoritative set of standard answers to the “core” questions which will then be a resource that they can then use, update and adapt as necessary in response to any buyer using PAS 91 in its prequalification processes. In this situation, answering a prequalification questionnaire becomes a routine process, saving both time and money with the result that a supplier is likely to feel more confident about applying for more contracts. It is important to recognize however that suppliers will need to maintain the currency, content and relevance of their pre-prepared answers to ensure that they are up to date and fit for purpose, at any given time.

Use of this PAS is in line with public sector policy in that it will help to open more opportunities to small- and medium-sized organizations. This is achieved not only through its standardization of the questions, but also by its requirement that the information being asked for should be limited to that which is related and proportionate to the subject matter of the contracts likely to be awarded.

A.4 How should a buyer use the PAS?

PAS 91 takes a modular approach to its set of questions and is structured to enable buyers to include the minimum number of modules necessary to cover the areas of capability that are relevant to the procurement process being undertaken.

Clause 4.1 contains modules that constitute the “core” questions that are to be asked in all prequalification activity. These core modules are:

- C1: Supplier identity; key roles and contact information;
- C2: Financial information;
- C3: Business and professional standing;
- C4: Health and safety policy and capability.

For public sector or defence and security buyers, Tables 9 and 10 or 11 and 12, provide alternative questions to C3.

In addition, where it is necessary to assess supplier capability in the areas of equal opportunity, environmental management and quality management, optional question modules are provided in Clause 4.2, as follows:

- O1: Equal opportunity and diversity policy and capability;
- O2: Environmental management policy and capability;
- O3: Quality management policy and capability;
- O4: Building information management policy and capability.

Although the optional questions in 4.2 need not be asked by all construction buyers, it is vital that if they are asked, then they should be consistently used. Adoption of the 4.2 question modules will increase consistency in prequalification activity across the industry.

Can I ask additional questions beyond those listed in 4.1 and 4.2?

Yes, if the answers will help with the procurement in question. Although the PAS sets out the essential “core” questions and common “optional” questions, it is recognized that a buyer can require additional project-related information and may therefore need to ask questions about professional or technical ability or other “project specific” issues, to obtain it. The PAS makes provision for this (see 3.2 and 4.5) however buyers should have particular regard to reducing unnecessary documentation requirements for businesses and the requirement that in any event the information being asked for should be limited to that which is related and proportionate to the subject matter of the contracts likely to be awarded.

A.5 Use of Assessment providers

Types of providers – Various organizations provide third-party prequalification assessment services to buyers and many of them only provide assessment in the area of Health and Safety (notably SSIP, see www.SSIP.org.uk).

Some assessment providers operate a single register of prequalified construction suppliers; from which lists of potential suppliers can be selected according to preferred criteria, e.g. size of company/turnover, geographic location, etc. Some assessment providers maintain lists by industry sector (e.g. a trade association) whilst others maintain local lists. The use of the “core” questions in this PAS is not affected by these different approaches. Assessment providers are therefore encouraged to use this PAS, and buyers are encouraged to select assessment providers whose information collection processes comply with the PAS and its principles.

Capability of assessment providers – Other than for exemption purposes, the scope of this PAS does not address the capability of assessment providers, whether by UKAS accreditation or other means. Accordingly, it is a matter for buyers to satisfy themselves that the assessment provider(s) whose members they accept through the prequalification services provided, are sufficiently able to carry out a reliable assessment of suppliers.

Additional questions – Assessment providers often ask additional questions to provide the functionality that buyers require. Assessment providers and their clients however should have particular regard to reducing unnecessary documentation requirements for businesses and in any event only require suppliers to provide information and evidence that is related and proportionate to the subject matter of the contracts likely to be awarded. Such additional questions should be clearly shown to be supplementary to (and beyond the scope of) this PAS.

Transitional adoption of the PAS – It may not be practical or cost effective for all assessment providers to fully adopt this PAS immediately. Wholesale modification of existing question sets to comply with this PAS together with requirement that all members should resubmit applications at that point could be unhelpful to buyers and suppliers. It is therefore reasonable to “migrate” to the full adoption of this PAS over a practical time frame but the intention to do so should be made clear to existing and new buyers and suppliers at the earliest opportunity.

A.6 How to use the PAS when looking at projects with different levels of risk

Types of project “risk” – For any given project there will be a number of “risks” to its successful completion, and these will depend on the nature of the individual project and the environment in which it is being undertaken. The same prequalification questions can still be used however, for the core and optional requirements but buyers may need to apply different types of assessment to the evaluation of supplier responses, depending on the risk levels involved. For example with projects which are not likely to go wrong or for which there will not be serious consequence if upsets occur, buyers may be satisfied with not assessing the prequalification information supplied by suppliers, in any degree of detail.

At the other end of the spectrum, for “mission critical” projects, buyers may wish to know that the suppliers’ answers have been thoroughly checked.

Where a third-party assessment provider is used by a buyer, the buyer’s choice of assessment provider(s) should take account of the processes the assessment provider follows, and whether this is likely to provide the assurance that they require for their projects in respect of a potential supplier’s capability.

The three assurance level model – Although this paragraph models assessment by reference to three types of assessment, this should be seen as a simplified framework – there is in fact a continuous spectrum from high to low.

Verification and assessment of supplier – Level 1

The assessment includes an audit typically involving on-site verification and outcome assessment, before accepting the supplier as meeting the requirements:

- most expensive for suppliers, most certain for buyers. Preferable for where high levels of assurance are essential or sought;

- limited choice of suppliers.

Validated assessment – Level 2

The assessment includes for example obtaining copies of certificates, details of company procedures, etc. This commonly includes so-called “desktop” assessment:

- medium cost for suppliers;
- more certainty for buyers;
- wider choice of suppliers.

Self- assessment – Level 3

The supplier fills in a questionnaire and makes statements about their work and certifications, minimal verification activity is carried out:

- cheapest for suppliers, least certain for buyers;
- widest choice of suppliers.

Various approaches to assessment may be suitable throughout the supply chain. Equally the buyer may choose to carry out a higher level of verification during the tender stage so it can be very project specific.

A.7 Application of the PAS to additional cases

A.7.1 Supplier cannot answer a question – In some circumstances, a question in the PAS may not be answerable by suppliers. For example:

- a start-up company would not be able to supply a financial history;
- a self-employed supplier may not need to show evidence of employee communication.

Assessment providers may already have “exception procedures” in place to deal with these and similar issues and they may continue to do so. Again, it is for the buyers to satisfy themselves that acceptable assessment procedures are in place.

A.7.2 Use of PAS 91 with unincorporated Joint Ventures or Consortia – these are often temporary entities that combine to pool resources and/or capability to bid for a specific project, although more permanent relationships also exist.

For procurements subject to the Public Contracts Regulations 2015 (PCR 2015) which exceed the relevant EU declared threshold, there are specific requirements under the PCR 2015 (see the supplementary questions to table 1, question C1-Q13 and the notes to table 1, and also Annexes B and C for further details).

Other than for the above, PAS refers to no specific provisions and it is for buyers and assessment providers to satisfy themselves that adequate provision is included.

Annex B Public sector buyers (informative)

This Annex covers:

- B1 General
- B2 Procurement policy
- B3 Mandatory and discretionary exclusion
- B4 Organizational roles where the supplier is participating in procurement together with others
- B5 Subcontractors not relied upon
- B6 Scoring mechanism
- B7 Use of equivalent standards

in relation to public-sector procurement.

B.1 General

This Annex briefly explains for public sector buyers how the PAS enables compliance with regulations

Public sector and certain other buyers (e.g. some utilities) are subject to EU treaties and directives regarding procurement of works, supplies and services contracts or frameworks. For projects or frameworks the value of which exceeds EU declared thresholds EU Directive 2014/24/EU is implemented in the UK by the Public Contracts Regulations and explained in Procurement Policy Note 2/15. Although broadly similar, the regulations for Scotland contain some significant differences from those applicable in England and Wales, and Scottish procurers should ensure that these differences are accounted for when conducting procurement exercises. Both the English/Welsh and Scottish regulations require procurers to act in an open, transparent and non-discriminatory way when selecting companies to receive tender enquiries, and so place certain restrictions on what public sector buyers can ask of contractors, suppliers, and consultants during the procurement process.

A prequalification process is often, but not always, used at the selection stage of a restricted procedure, where a candidate's capability of performing the contract or framework is evaluated. Information requested at prequalification stage that is intended to be used to evaluate a candidate's technical and professional capability is required to be consistent with Regulations 58(15) to 58(18) and 60(9) of the Public Contracts Regulations 2015 and for their financial and economic standing with Regulations 58 (7) to (10) and 60 (6) to (8); it is also necessary that the process be capable of being evaluated objectively and proportionately. Contracting authorities should ensure that the questions asked of candidates are related and proportionate to the subject matter of the contract or framework.

It is important to distinguish between the Prequalification Questionnaire (PQQ) and Invitation To Tender (ITT) and decide at this stage what information is required to enable identification of which candidates are capable of delivering the contract or framework and can, therefore, be invited to submit a tender. Questions asked in the PQQ must be in respect of the organization's legal status, economic and financial standing (Regulations 58 (7) to (10) and 60(6) to 60(8)) and technical or professional ability (Regulations 58(15) to 58(18) and 60(9)) to perform the contract only and must not be based on criteria that examine quality. Questions asked at PQQ stage must not be repeated in the ITT, and they must not be expressed in such a way that would discriminate against non UK candidates. Specific questions about how suppliers would deliver the contract or framework should be dealt with within the ITT.

Where project-specific contract or framework tenders are being sought, for which questions in respect of technical and professional ability are necessary, in accordance with Regulations 58(15) to 58(18) and 60(9) of the Public Contracts Regulations 2015, appropriate additional questions may be included in a PAS 91 compliant questionnaire. Table 13 provides example of how such questions can be included.

The questions in 4.1 and 4.2 of this PAS are all allowable at prequalification stage under the above Regulations. Users should ensure that any additional questions inserted in the modules are also allowable.

B.2 Procurement policy

Public sector buyers are also often committed to promoting certain policy objectives in their procurements, such as local employment, apprenticeships and training, SME-friendly, social and environmental matters, etc., and will wish to confirm that candidates are capable of complying with such objectives. In these cases it is unlikely that questions regarding information that is intended to be used to evaluate a candidate's capability are allowable at prequalification stage.

In some cases it may be appropriate to ask additional "policy delivery" questions at the prequalification stage for evaluation purposes, if they are directly related to the subject matter of the contract or framework. In these cases, such questions should be treated in exactly the same way as any additional "project specific" questions. In any case, buyers should ensure that these policy questions are acceptable under the Regulations.

Following the key tenet of this PAS, if policy-related prequalification questions are to be asked, it is strongly recommended that all buyers that ask such questions are consistent, i.e. they use the same questions to the maximum practical extent. Policy makers are therefore encouraged to provide clear guidance on the questions and/or contract clauses relevant to the particular policy aim.

To fulfil buyers' policy objectives, there may be a requirement to agree in the awarded contract or framework to work to certain standards or agree to other conditions not directly associated with the delivery of the work. These requirements should be made clear to candidates at the prequalification stage to avoid them expending effort in prequalifying if they do not find the additional policy requirements acceptable.

B.3 Mandatory and discretionary exclusion

The Public Contracts Regulations 2015 introduces the European Single Procurement Document that contains the exclusion grounds for public procurement. It is essential that a candidate confirms whether it is liable to be excluded from a public procurement and, if liable to exclusion, can explain what action it has taken to ensure that a breach of the exclusion grounds will not recur. The PAS 91 Module C3 Tables 9 and 10 incorporate the ESPD exclusion questions.

Clause 4.3 (Tables 9 and 10) of this PAS includes all questions and references to grounds for mandatory and discretionary exclusion in accordance with Regulation 57 and 59 of the Public Contracts Regulations 2015.

Clause 4.4 (Tables 11 and 12) of this PAS include questions relating to mandatory and discretionary exclusion in accordance with Regulation 23 of the Defence and Security Public Contract Regulations 2011.

B.4 Organizational roles where the supplier is participating in the procurement together with others

Where the supplier is participating in the procurement with others as referred to in question C1-Q13-2 in Table 1, the organizational roles should be understood, as follows:

- Sole supplier/Lead entity: Sole entity or, in case of consortium, joint venture or other types of groups, the leader of the group.
- Group member: Member (not leader) of the consortium, joint venture or other type of group.
- Other entity (relied upon): Entity on which the main supplier, the group or other subcontractor, relies in order to meet the selection criteria.
- Other entity (not relied upon): Entity on which the main supplier, the group or other subcontractor, does not rely in order to meet the selection criteria.

B.5 Subcontractors not relied upon

Contracting authorities may ask for information on subcontractors that are not relied on and have several choices regarding this.

- A contracting authority may choose to ask whether the candidate intends to subcontract (Regulation 71 (1) Public Contracts Regulations 2015).
- A contracting authority may choose to ask for details of the proposed subcontractors (in so far as this is possible) (Regulation 71 (1) Public Contracts Regulations 2015)
- A Contracting authority may choose to ask for self-declarations relating to the exclusion grounds from subcontractors who are not being relied on by the candidate to meet the selection criteria. However if subcontractors who are not being relied on are asked to complete the self-declaration then the procurement documents are to explicitly state that one is required. If a self-declaration is requested and there are mandatory grounds for exclusion, then the candidate is to be required to replace the subcontractor. If there are discretionary grounds for exclusion then the candidate may be required to replace the subcontractor. (Regulation 71 (8) Public Contracts Regulations 2015).

It is essential that the procurement documents make clear what information a candidate is required to provide in respect of subcontractors that are not being relied on.

B.6 Scoring mechanism

As with all selection processes, PQQs should be evaluated consistently and objectively according to a defined scoring model. The scoring model should be formulated prior to inviting expressions of interest but has to be finalized and candidates informed prior to completing the PQQ. The Regulations require that where a scoring model is used, candidates are to be advised of:

- the scoring model, including the weightings and maximum marks assigned to each question;
- if and where an unsatisfactory answer to one or more questions may of itself lead to exclusion from further consideration (irrespective of the quality of the remainder of the responses); and
- the criteria to be applied where the buyer elects to limit the number of candidates to be invited to tender.

B.7 Use of equivalent standards

Contracting authorities may lay down technical specifications which are to be met, but they are required to ensure that such technical specifications do not create barriers to open competition. Where PQQs require compliance with British, European or International standards, technical approvals or technical specifications or other technical reference systems, each reference is to be accompanied by "or equivalent". Public Sector Buyers are therefore required to consider offers which claim to satisfy the requirements in an equivalent manner even though they do not conform to the standard in question. It is required that tenders be examined to establish whether they satisfy the contracting authority's requirements in an equivalent manner and under no circumstances may contracting authorities reject offers solely on the grounds that they are not based on a specified standard or technology. The burden of proving technical equivalence will fall on the bidder in the absence of certification of conformity with the standard.

Annex C Requirement for a declaration (informative)

C.1 Provision of declaration

The Public Contracts Regulations 2015 (Regulation 59) stipulate that suppliers and any entities relied on, be required to complete a declaration in respect of their prequalification responses, and that this be included with the issued questionnaire (see C.2 for form of declaration). Subcontractors not relied on that are instructed to complete a self-declaration (as per B.5) also required to complete the declaration.

C.2 Form of declaration

I declare that to the best of my knowledge the answers submitted and information contained in this completed document (questionnaire) are correct and accurate, including Tables 1, 9 and 10 and where applicable Tables (document compiler to insert the table numbers for all of the other questions included for the procurement)

I declare that, upon request and without delay I will provide the certificates and/or documentary evidence referred to in this document.

I understand that the information will be used in the selection process to assess my organization’s suitability to participate further in this procurement.

Annex D Health and safety: SSIP and supplier capability (informative)

PAS 91 provides for acceptance by buyers of relevant successful assessments by registered members of the Safety Schemes in Procurement Forum (SSIP), against Module C4.

SSIP and Module C4 cover health and safety questions only.

To help reduce cost and bureaucracy for the buyer and supplier, buyer compliance with PAS 91 includes acceptance of relevant, successful assessments by an SSIP registered member scheme in lieu of responses to Module C4, without requiring separate responses from the supplier to the corresponding health and safety questions in Module C4 of this PAS.

Furthermore, accepting an SSIP registered member-assessed supplier as part of general PQQs can allow buyers to give additional attention to project-specific health and safety questions and can make a significant contribution to “mutual recognition” of core health and safety prequalification requirements.

The HSE actively supports SSIP, noting that suitable assessment of a supplier by an SSIP member assessor meets the buyer’s general requirement to exercise “reasonable judgment” based on the evidence provided. However, using an SSIP member-assessed scheme, or adopting PAS 91, does not remove the buyer’s responsibility to:

- ensure that a supplier is indeed “SSIP member-assessed”;
- further enquire, as necessary, about the supplier’s health and safety capability to carry out specific projects, services or other activities.

SSIP member schemes are subjected annually to independent third-party audit.

Annex E Building Information Modelling and PAS 91 (informative)

Building Information Modelling (BIM) involves the creation, collation and exchange of shared 3D models throughout the asset lifecycle, including the intelligent, structured data attached to the models. Effective use of BIM is underpinned by collaborative working and effective information exchange.

The Government's BIM Strategy, promoted by The Department for Environment and Business Strategy (BEIS) and the Efficiency and Reform Group of the Cabinet Office (ERG), prepared by industry representatives and originally published in March 2011, set out the route map by which widespread adoption of BIM to Level 2 will be achieved, aimed at delivering benefits during construction and post-occupancy.

Following the publication of the strategy, the BIM Task Group has been established to bring together expertise from industry, government, public sector, institutes and academia in the development of standards and ways of working. The work of the Task Group can be accessed on the website <http://www.bimtaskgroup.org/>.

Widespread adoption of BIM was a key recommendation of the Government Construction Strategy, published in May 2011. The Government Construction Strategy (GCS) required fully collaborative 3D BIM (with all project and asset information, documentation and data being electronic) as a minimum by April 2016 on all centrally procured Government projects as outlined in the GCS including new build and retained estate, vertical and linear.

In recognition of the Government BIM mandate, optional questions have been included within PAS 91 examining competence in BIM and collaborative information exchange.
